November 1 - 14, 2010 African Safari/Mt. Kilimanjaro Trek

Rescue Humanity Medical Outreach to Nepal.

October 15th through October 31st, 2010.

Last year (October 2009) our volunteer medical team treated more than 1,000 patients in two days. Many of the patients walked many miles; some on stretchers over rough mountain terrain to reach our medical camp where they received free dental and medical care. This year our medical outreach will be better than ever, including a white water rafting trip in a remote area of Nepal and hang-gliding over the mountains with breathtaking views of Annapurra and the Himalaya Mountain Range. Kathmandu, Nepal is a culturally diverse city full of ancient temples and exciting places to visit. Our trip will also include a visit to the Royal Palace in Bangkok, Thailand. You will have an opportunity to visit numerous temples in this exotic city, not to mention spoiling yourself with a 3-hour, first-class Thai massage (if you think you can handle it).

African Safari/Kilimanjaro Trek.

November 1st through November 14, 2010.

Following our medical outreach, we will travel to Kenya. Our African Safari will be followed by a six-day summit bid to Kilimanjaro. Last year (November 2009) seven members of our medical team trekked 17-days to reach Everest Base Camp. While Mt. Kilimanjaro is not as physically challenging as Everest Base Camp, it will be just as exhilarating and special. Funds raised from our Kilimanjaro trek will go to support orphan children in Kenya.

Details about our Medical Camp and African Safari/Kilimanjaro trek will be available shortly.

We would love to have you join the team. We guarantee it will change your life. Helping others in need is the most rewarding feeling on the planet!
